INTRODUCTION

During the past five years, great interest developed concerning the Asian American experience - the experience of Asians in the United States. People, especially Asian Americans, began to study the history, sociology and psychology of this racial minority. Out of this relatively sharp increase in interest came study groups and programs at colleges and universities across the country as well as in Asian American communities.

One of the first concerns was research material. At first glance, there seems to be a lack of writing in the field since relatively few scholars had spent time in this area of ethnic studies. We, the authors, set about the task of discovering what was indeed available in connection with the development of a course on the Asian American experience at Cornell University. And the results are startling. A great wealth of material was found to exist. This bibliography lists much of the material available at Cornell.

In the preparation of this book, bibliographies from many books were consulted. And in the process, various published bibliographies were found and used as well. These are listed in a section of our book. Also book lists from various Asian American bookstores and University Asian American courses throughout the country were used. But by no means should this book be considered a list of all material available. First of all, this is intended to be only a listing of materials at Cornell. Second, many new books and articles are currently being published. And third, many old newspaper articles are not listed. However this bibliography does give an idea of the wealth of material available and should provide an adequate starting point for research or development of a research library in this topic.

USE OF THIS BIBLIOGRAPHY

Publications are listed alphabetically by author under subject headings. Publisher, date, place of publication and pages where known are also given. For material under specialized topics, one should also look at those listed under more general headings such as "general works" or "Asian" since we omitted putting them down under each specialized topic to avoid too much repetition.
